

Brown Bag Lunches

A term for short, informational sessions presented by experts or health/wellness professionals usually offered at no cost and during the lunch hour. Participants usually bring and eat their own lunches.